The background is I still learned in my old primary school.

I had good friend

Many good friends

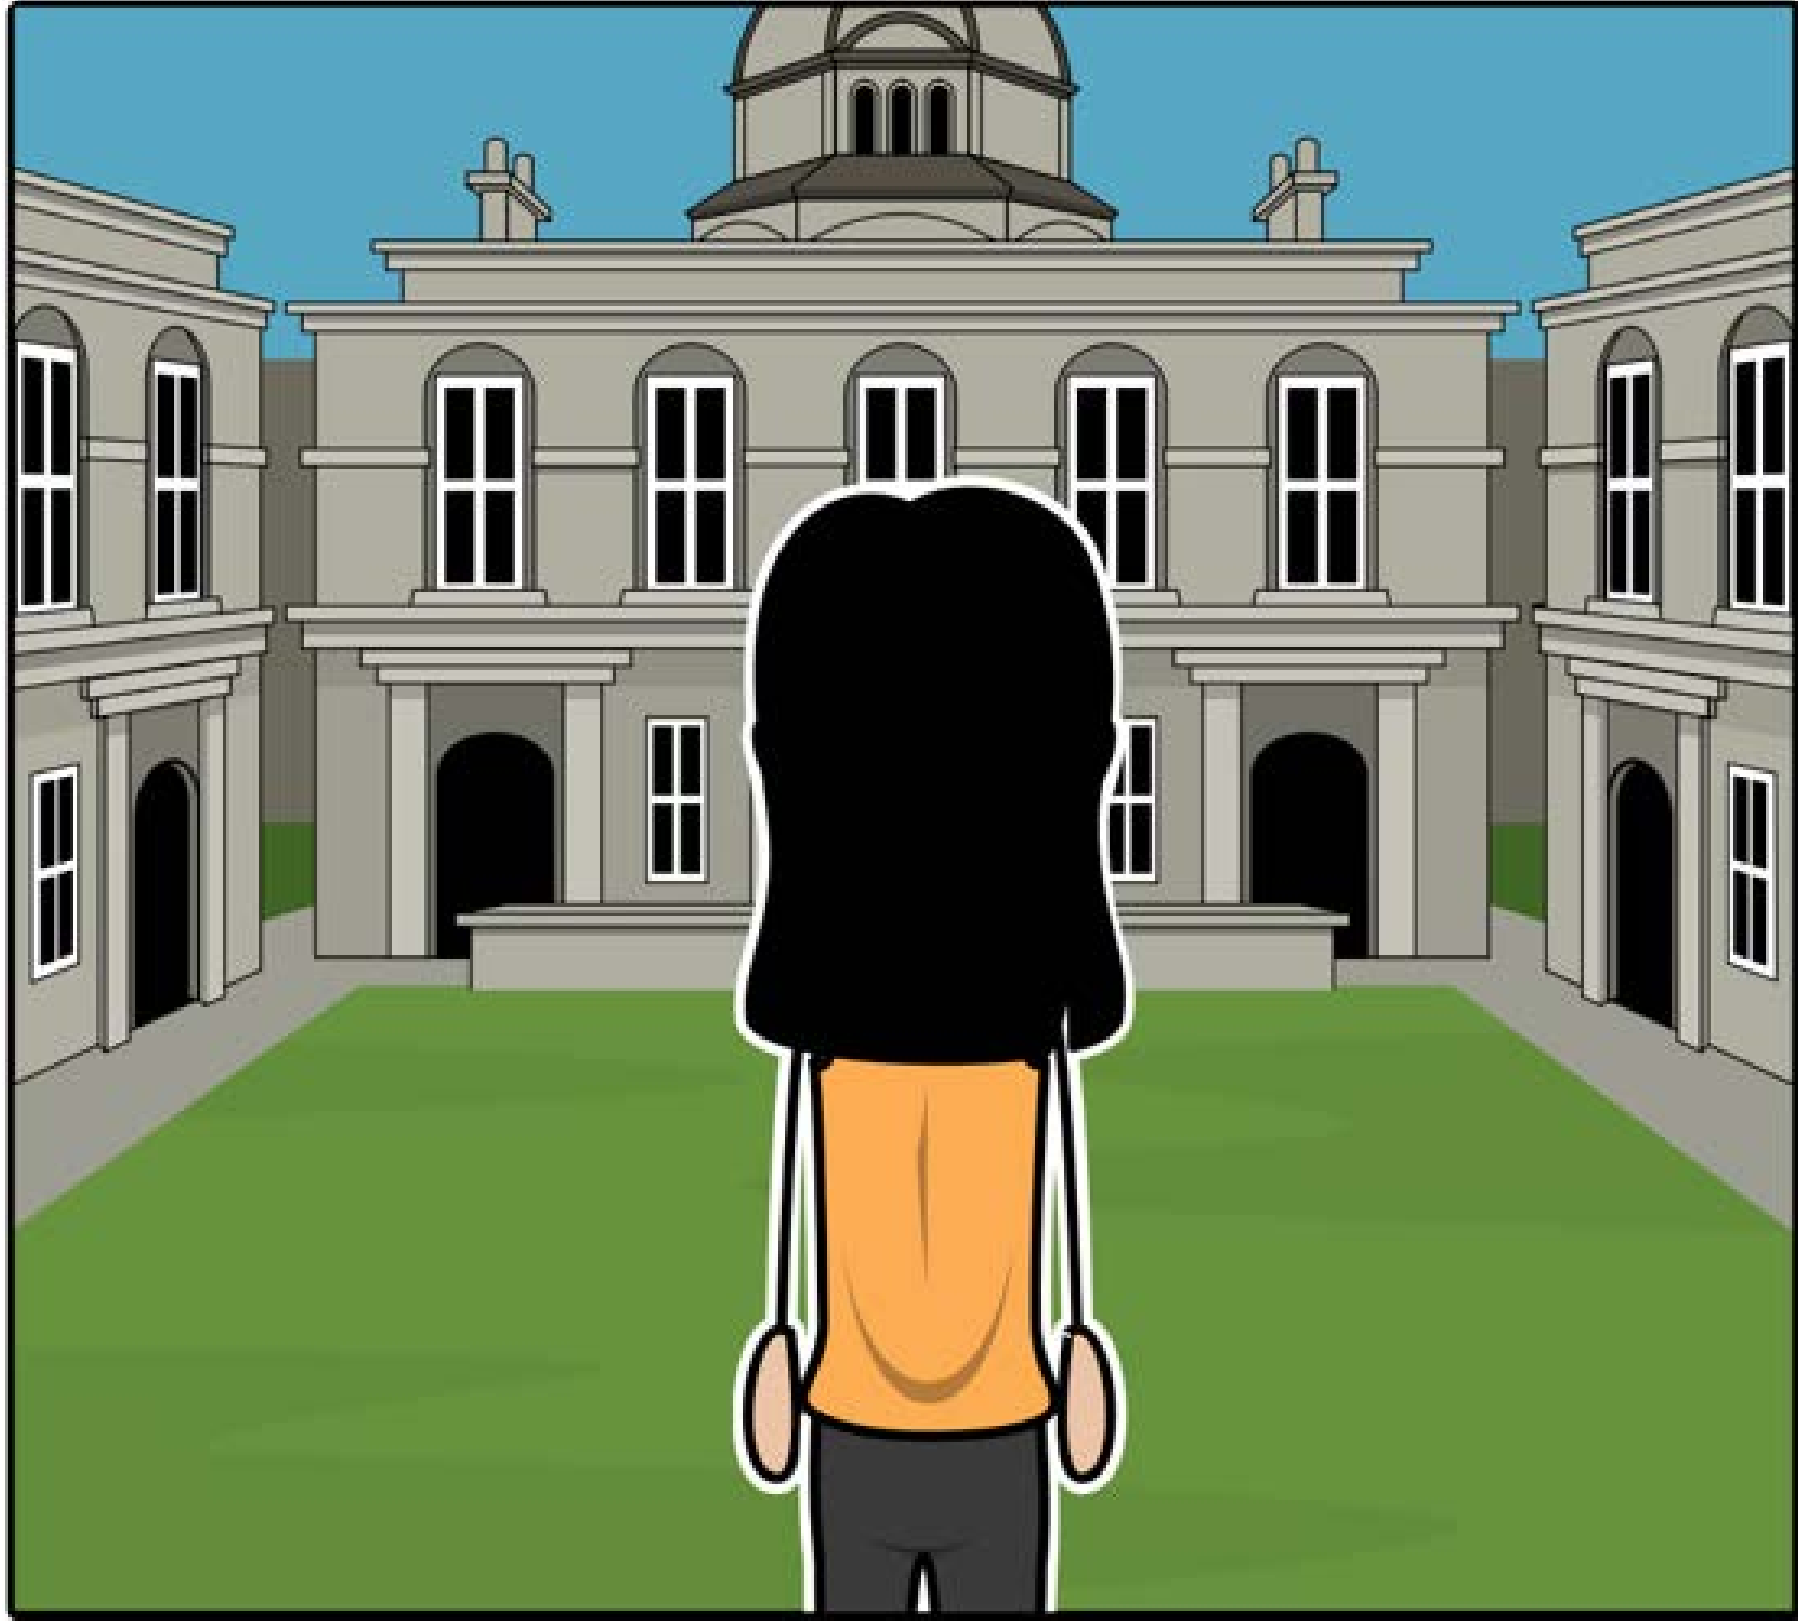

And the best teacher ever!

Especially, be a pop star
was my dream at that time.
And everybody in this small school always respected children dream.

My challenge had begun since I was 10 years old: my mom want me to study at another school for some reason.

Without any opposition, I accepted my mom request

I was look so souless all the time

I didn't have any friends.

And just forget about my new teacher, who is the strick and selfish women.

Just look how the boy treat me for the first I sang in his class!

And just look how everybody in this new school said while I was performing!

What's does challenge mean?
